Crossing Over

Oh, please dont feel guilty

It was just my time to go,

I see you are still feeling sad

And the tears just seem to flow.

We all come to earth for our lifetime,

And for some it's not many years

I dont want you to keep crying

You are shedding so many tears.

I haven't really left you

Even though it may seem so.

I have just gone to my heavenly home,

And I'm closer to you than you know.
Just believe that when you say my name,
I'm standing next to you.
I know you long to see me,
But there's nothing I can do.
But I'll send you messages
And hope you understand,
That when your time comes to "cross over,"
I'll be there to take your hand.

“ "You Should be Here" a Song that has been played many times in the last few months. Every time I hear it I loose it.

Not a day goes by that something happens that I want to tell you about or talk to you about it. Not a day goes by that something don't happen that sparks a memory of you.

I remember the day, like it just happened that you and I got into a fist fight up on the hunt. After it all ended we both just cried like little school girls. not because we were physical hurt but because we were that close that it broke our hearts that we could hurt each other in that manner. I remember that same weekend when you and had a shot at the same deer and instead of giving it 3 more seconds to turn broadside you took a shot. Grazed that poor deer and we looked for ever for that thing. Very little blood trail that took us on wild goose chase.

Sure do miss you little brother. I cant wait till I can come home and see you.

Love ya!

“ To my fiancé. Where do I even begin. You always had a light about you and wanted to make everyone smile, and always strived to be the best you could be. You wanted to conquer the world and in my eyes you did. I was so excited for you to be a new dad and so were you but I know you are up there doing your dad duties right now and protecting our little girl. Thank you so much for making Kade and I so happy in the small amount of time that we got to spend with you. And thank you for giving me a piece of you so I will never forget the great man that I had. I love you

“ My sincere condolences to the family of Alex Ingersoll. May your precious memories fill your heart with joy. Although no words can take away your pain, please find comfort in knowing that God will soon "swallow up death forever, and the Sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away the tears from all faces." “ I am still trying to accept the fact that this is really happening. You know how you meet certain people that you never forget...Well Alex is one of those people! The last time I talked to him was when he got out. I was so proud of his upbeat attitude. We laughed about the time I took him & Jason to meet the teenage mutant ninja turtles. As we were leaving that little stinker started pretend crying and said VERY LOUD "mommy are you going to beat me when we get to the car? How come you never beat Jason? Do you love him and not me?" Everyone around us were glaring at me. And he was laughing his butt off. I had put the lense cover on but had forgotten to turn the camcorder off. So when we got home he replayed it over and over...He was quite proud of himself.....I will never understand why he had to leave so soon....My heart goes out to all of you. You are family to us. ...

“ Much love to you my Brotha,
We definitely met each other for a reason,
You inspired me with your drive, determination and Heart that it takes to make it, no obstacle was going to stop you,

In fact, it fueled your desire that much more, to show to the people you loved and to yourself that you could and we're going to do this and successfully, legally and on your own terms, with respect and quality!

I unknowingly probably got to spend the last short several weeks with you the most because of the intense schedule we we're keeping to make the deadlines and earn the respect of the customers, we were doing it my brotha, Saturday i finally got the holes drilled in those doors, and they have nothing but praise to express in their remodel, they love it. So as it is with them my brotha, our contract between us is fulfilled as well,

Ascend! I know that I will see you again

Alex Ingersoll

because you were more than my boss, you are one of my angels, and became one of my truest and real deal friends. With love -RIP

“ Little brother! So many memories I'm going to cherish of us. Still one of my most favorite is when we were up on a hunting trip and you, being you, decided to clean the camper and put a bottle of raid in the garbage. Well then you decide to burn the garbage. Couple minutes go by and BOOM. The can exploded and leveled all of us sitting by the fire. We have laughed about that for years. Love you buddy!

“ The last time I talked to you we laughed about the time I took you & Jason to meet the Teenage Mutant. Ninja Turtles. On the way to the car you were trying to embarrass me so ...VERY loudly in front of a bunch of people you kept saying "Are you going to beat me when we get to the car?..I love you anyway...But why dont you ever beat Jason? Dont you love me?" ...EVERYONE was giving me dirty looks and you just laughed your butt off. I got it all on audio because i put the lens cover on but forgot to turn the camcorder off. ...I will never understand why you were called home so soon. ...To the entire family; You know how much we love you guys. God bless you.

“ One of the most genuine, kind, and hard working people I have ever met. A big heart and a gentle giant. Proud of his family and always beaming. Adored by and an example to my kids. A trusted home advisor for me and my wife. His word was his bond. His courage in the face of adversity and determination to overcome was infectious. He was a special friend. Alex Ingersoll you are loved and will be missed. RIP.
