“ One one my fondest memories of Ashley, was our “Broke Kids Thanksgiving”. Chad, Ashley, and I celebrated Thanksgiving together at LumberJacks in Petaluma. Ashley, always loving her family, insisted that even though we had almost no money between all of us... we needed to do something together... anything... for Thanksgiving. Naturally, we had to eat, so we decided on food. Since we were the only family we had around, and none of us really cooked at the time... we had to go out.

After realizing our hurdle of all being totally broke, we pooled together what little cash we had, I grabbed some from December’s rent... and we went fishing for coins from our couches and our cars. We began searching for where we could afford to go for a nice, yet cheap, Thanksgiving meal together.

Even though it was more than we could really afford at the time, we found a place close by that had a real meal and all the fixings. Lumberjacks!

To this day, I always think of that day whenever I drive by a Lumberjacks... or even hear the word.

Up until very recently, seeing a Lumberjacks didn’t happen all that often anymore, since I no longer lived in Sonoma County, nor do I often talk about lumberjacks. That all change on July 7th.

Literally, I moved back to Sonoma County, to Petaluma, the very day I found out about Ashley’s passing.

I now live less than a mile from that very same Lumberjacks, and closer to her little studio apartment in Downtown, by Walnut Park.

I am so happy to say that I will be reminded, almost daily, of this amazing holiday we shared together... as well as all of our family fun times together in California, as I roam and wander through Petaluma.

“ I am going to miss Asleys laugh. She had such a hardy laugh that it made others around her laugh. Sometimes I didn't even know what she was laughing about but I would laugh along with her. She went a long time laughing very little but the last couple years the happy Ashley was back. I will miss you Asley but I know your in a happy place with unlimited quality cosmetics.

“ I was staff at Odyssey while Ashley was there. During that time, she was always working hard on her recovery. I'm very proud of how far she came. I'm sad to see her go, but I'm truly proud of her!

“ Ashley came to my graduation last year and it was the most incredible surprise I could have ever hoped for. I wish I could have told her how special she made me feel but the truth is I didn't know how to open up to her at that time. I had still been getting over a period of time in which I had given in to my own addictions and self loathing, and so I felt I didn't deserve her there. I hadn't earned her respect yet. I hadn't been able to be there for her when she needed help. But it was her strength and love that day that has helped heal me every day since. I have been trying to reconnect with our family and be involved in all of their lives so much more because I can't forget the image of my cousin Ashley congratulating me for my accomplishments and caring about my future. I was so happy when I got to go to Ashley's graduation from Odyssey because I felt like it was a way for me to thank her and try to return the love and respect that she had shown me. I will miss Ashley so much and I will be grateful to her forever.

“ Ashley always let her family & the people around her know they were loved. I don't know what I am going to do without Laundry day! Every laundry day she would have to come thru the office to get into the house to do her laundry and I work in the office and she would have both hands full and be trying to shut the door behind her with her leg and at the same time turn and give me that beautiful smile and say "I Love You Aunt Linda and I would say Love You Ashley. I looked so forward to laundry day she made me fill so loved and helped my day go so much better but that was her, she helped and cared about so many. Ashley I am going to miss you so much. You never knew it but you gave me so much strength and helped me be strong. I Love you so much.

“ Ashley, I had so many good times at Odyssey. We liked doing the pick ups for procurement. Especially the Provo, Orem. Also, Ashley it was so cool to go make up shopping with you. Your mom gave you the gift card for Sephora. I'll miss you!

“ Ash- there are so many things I would say if I was given the chance
The one single memory I have is of your smile
You had a smile that entered the room before you did
Your smile would soften the hardest of hearts
It's rare the you come in contact with such a beautiful soul.
I'm so thankful for your memory and your constant reminder to embrace beauty when you have the chance
We all search for freedom I pray every single night and day that you found your peace
I love you ashley
