

Clayton Wesley Schneider

February 12, 1989 - June 28, 2019

It is with great sadness that the family of Clayton Wesley Schneider announces his passing, at the age of 30 years, on Friday, June 28, 2019. Clayton was preceded in death by his grandfather, Stanley Schneider and his father, Wesley Schneider. Clayton will be lovingly remembered by his mother, Linda Starbuck, siblings Amber MacArt (Brian), Mattie Schneider (Brandon), and twin brother Clifton Schneider. Clayton will also be fondly remembered by his five nieces and nephews Dylan, Jayce, Kade, Ella and Aria, by his grandparents, Alvin & Alice Starbuck and Patsy Schneider and his aunts and uncles Pam Martin, Jeff Schneider (Lori), Cissie Mullaney (Jim) and Dee Starbuck (Tari). Clayton will also be lovingly remembered by his cousins, other extended family and dear friends.

Clayton was a very caring and loving individual. He had a love for animals and spending time with family and friends. He loved to draw and enjoyed fishing. Clayton was hit by a car on August 3, 2007 and suffered a severe traumatic brain injury. Due to this devastating accident, Clayton's life was forever changed. Clayton strived to have a "normal" life. He wanted to get married and have kids and buy a house, but he never got that chance. Even though Clayton had a lot of issues, he would always see the good in the ones he loved and would always send messages to let the people in his life know that he loved them dearly and was very proud of their accomplishments.

A small memorial will be held on Friday, July 19, 2019 from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. at Serenity Funeral Home of Draper located at 12278 Lone Peak Parkway, #103, Draper, UT 84020.

Memorial donations in memory of Clayton can be made to Amber MacArt.

Events

---

JUL Memorial Service 03:00PM - 05:00PM

19

---

Serenity Funeral Home

12278 S Lone Peak Parkway Ste: 103, Draper, UT, US

Comments

---

“ Unfortunately, after Clayton's accident, I don't have many memories of him. I only have memories of watching and hearing how his mom and his sisters loved and supported him and tried to include him in family activities as much they could. Living life with a child's mind and a man's body brought his family many challenges, but also lots of joy when he got excited about finding an Easter basket or trick-or-treating. I have memories of him before the accident as a cute little guy with lots of energy that often got him in trouble; and also as a teenager who helped his mom by working in the yard or doing the laundry. Once I get back home, I'll go through my photos and see if there are any that you might not have and get them to you. I am so sorry for your loss; I love you all and will be praying for you.

Cissie Mullaney - July 14, 2019 at 08:34 AM

“ Thank you Cissie for giving me the opportunity to be able to be with my children through this totally unbelievable loss in our life's. Thank you for taking the time to be with our parents while I go through the things I need to do to make my life liveable again because I have missed myself very much and can't wait to see if I will be able to start all over again. I've suffered with this hip issue since December and the whole experience has been such a frustrating time for me and I'm not sure if I will be able to have forgiveness for those who have hurt me. I will do my best to let it go and find forgiveness but one thing I do know for sure is that I will never be able to forget being treated like a child that is just out to score a fun time or what ever it does for people that are abusing pain medication but I can't even say that what I have been given has even done for me what it is intended to do. I can handle quite a bit of pain but what I've been struggling with for the past few months has been over whelming for me and I pray that I don't have to ever go through anything like this again as I know depression would completely take over my heart and attitude for those that would be involved in helping me cope with the pain until I could get it taken care of. That is why I am so grateful for my sister talking over caregiving for our parents and giving me the chance to take care of what I need to do and know that my Father and Mother are in the very best of care they could receive and allowing me to deal with the issues I have to take care of instead of also having to worry about them too. Cissie I can't tell you in words just how much this has touched my heart and I love you dearly for your support and I love Jim for allowing her to be here helping me leaving himself all alone missing her daily. God has always been good to me showing his love for me from the moment I came into this World. I am truly blessed... I love you all for the sacrifices you have had to go through. I will never forget what you have done for me. Thank you my dearest family..

Linda Starbuck - July 15, 2019 at 03:29 AM

“ I can see by the post time on your message that you had another long night of pain and no sleep. I can't wait (maybe almost as much as you) for your surgery to be over and you to be in recovery with less pain. I'm glad to be here watching over these two precious senior citizens so you don't have that added worry. And, you know I'm going to tell you to forgive. Unforgiveness is a heavy weight around your neck that will bring you down to the depth of despair. Remember what Jesus went through to bring forgiveness to us; who are we to withhold it from those who hurt us? You may not be able to do it now in your pain, but it is a burden which harms until it is let go. I love you little sis and am here for you through this horrific situation with your hip and the loss of Clayton; both such painful things to deal with.

15 days to go until your surgery and we'll be praying for it to go quickly.

Cissie Mullaney - July 15, 2019 at 09:50 AM