

Edward Arthur Elsberry

October 27, 1937 - August 21, 2013

Edward Arthur Elsberry was born on October 27th, 1937 in Pembine Wisconsin. After graduating from high school in Marshalltown Iowa, Ed joined the Air Force where he was introduced to a technical education that blessed his professional career and the second gift was a new faith. Ed was introduced to the missionaries while he was in the Air Force and quickly joined “the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints”. He shared his faith with his family and friends and continued the missionary spirit for the rest of his life.

Abundant energy has also been a part of Ed his whole life. He could out work and out last almost anyone and do it with grace and without complaint. He could work tedious stubborn problems for hours on end with focus and excitement and find satisfaction on the resolution of the issue. He always explained that the impossible takes a little longer. Cool under pressure has been a hallmark of Ed’s personality and has been a blessing to him both personally and professionally. As a result, Ed has had an outstanding professional career that has taken him on a journey around the world. In 20 years he completed 132 national or international expeditions for the National Center of Atmospheric Research (NCAR) in Boulder Colorado . There he designed instruments, and installed and managed weather data. He drove the tops of the Rocky Mountains in the winter in a huge Snow Cat.

He was a storm chaser through the plain states gathering enough data for several doctoral candidates to complete their degrees. Tornadoes are classed as ‘F”. The F stands for the scientist he worked with Ted Fagita. He also worked throughout the equatorial trough, Central America, the far east, the Philipeans , islands in the pacific, Alaska and places still unknown.

He then started a new satellite receiver company known as ISSI (International Satellite Systems Inc.). Satellite technology was in its infancy. He successfully installed the first satellite feed for the Manhattan Cable Company at 23rd and Lexington, in New York for all the boroughs. Hi company, ISSI, brought the first satellite feed to India for the Indian Summer Olympics. There he installed Indira Gandhi’s first color television at her home while guarded by Seiks with machine guns. He was affectionately known by Ministers of the Indian government as “Mr. Eddy”. No matter where he went or who he met, he left a lasting impression of goodness, kindness, competence, and friendship.

Ed then shifted professional gears, as the satellite industry was consolidating, and put his energies into aerospace, where he ran a number of successful rocket systems programs for Orbital Sciences. He had top clearance from the U.S. Department of Defense so he could provide leadership for international projects. His organizational strengths were known in his industry and Ed distinguished himself as one of the great project leaders at Orbital Sciences.

Ed has always been a man of faith and expressed his beliefs through his service. Ed or Brother Elsberry will always be known for his selflessness as he has touched the lives of countless people. His genuine concern for others and his cheerful countenance has endeared him to everyone that he met. His passion and excitement for sharing an idea or a story was nothing short of infectious. His presence lifted us all and brought out the best in all of us.

Grandpa, Brother Elsberry, Mechanic, Storm Chaser, President Elsberry, Engineer, Entrepreneur, Husband, Sweetest Man, Friend and just regular old Dad. He left a legacy of decency and goodness and we will miss him dearly as family patriarch and counselor.

Ed Elsberry is survived by his wife RitaRae Hall Elsberry and his children Ken Elsberry, wife Susan; Kevin Elsberry his wife Inna and children Britteny, Kiley, Blake and Artium; His daughter Shari and her daughters Peyton and Page; Ed's son David Ellsberry.

His step children are W. Donovan Hall and his wife Val and children Jeremy, Kahnon, Shimara and Mason; Dan Hall; Marci Hall and her children, Liberty Ann Chandonia and Gabriel Chandonia; Randy Hall; Craig Hall; Mitch Hall; Phillip Hall and his wife Iryna and their children Faith, Phillip J. and Summer Rae.

“ What a truly great man. His example of hard work and kindness will never be forgotten. He had such a warm nature and always radiated kindness to us. A man of great accomplishment who always had time to help others. I fondly remember the many hours he spent helping Sam learn how to fix our car. Just one of the many things he taught us. He was so willing to share his knowledge and ability to the betterment of others. As the recipient of Ed's kindness so many many times, I am grateful for the privilege and honor I had to know such a great man. His example will live on in my mind and in my heart.

Both Ed and Rita Rae are shining examples to me in the way they loved and cared for each other and the way they loved and cared for their family. Sam and I have said many times that we hope to pattern our lives this way and adopt many of the same traditions that we witnessed being shared. We always share the sentiment that we were so blessed to live in the Elsberry's basement. As a young newlywed couple, we couldn't have had better examples.

I share in your grief Rita Rae, and pray that you will receive comfort as you mourn the loss of your sweetheart. I can't imagine the sorrow you must feel. We love you both so dearly.

“ Rita Rae, I cannot express my deepest sorrow of Ed's passing. What a wonderful, sweet, caring man. So giving, always thinking of others. I cannot think of any two people who have been such wonderful examples of kindness, charity and love. I love you both so much, I pray that your heart may be at peace at this time. And know that Ed will continue to do his best service on the other side of the veil. Please know that we love you and Ed very, very much. He will be greatly missed. Please don't hesitate to call for anything.

“ What a wonderfully accomplished man your Ed was - but then, he picked you - perhaps one of his greatest decisions. To know a love like you and Ed have - what a gift! I love you RitaRae and I now feel blessed to know Ed because of your beautifully written memorial. Love, Ruthie

“ I love Ed's enthusiasm and positive attitude. I know that it hasn't diminished because he's on the other side of the veil. I loved how he showed his love for his wife and to his wife at all times. As long as I knew him, he lived his life according to article of faith 13. He will truly be missed.

“ Grandpa Ed is such a wonderful person. He welcomed me to the family with open arms and a heart full of love to share. He always made me feel important and he always expressed how proud he was of me in my accomplishments. He has a heart of gold and is such a genuine person. I was fortunate enough to have him a part of my life. He will be dearly missed by many. I know my family will miss him greatly. I know he is in a better place with his Lord and Saviour watching over all of those he loves and cares about.

“ We knew Ed way-back-when in Marshalltown, Iowa. We were all a lot younger then, and helped build (or paint in my case) the Marshalltown Ward building. Ed always full of smiles and love for everyone. He loved the gospel and shared it with anyone who would care to listen. I remember he loved my chocolate cake because, he said, it was "heavy," and he loved "heavy" cakes. Not too great a compliment for some cooks!

We share a lot of happy memories about those times when we were all struggling with work and young families, and we will share those memories again in another time and another, better place.

Our sympathy goes out to you and the family at this difficult time. Joyce Schroepfel,

“ Dear Rita Rae,
So Sorry to hear of Ed's passing. I am so glad I was able to visit with him a few weeks ago and put a smile on his face by grooming his "sweet baby girl pup"! I enjoyed doing it for both of you. I have kept you in my prayers.

“ Dear Rita Rae, I am so sad that I won't be able to be with you at the Funeral...I would love to meet the rest of the family that I haven't met...Dan and I love the two of you dearly and you will be constantly in our thoughts and Prayers. You are so strong and I know you will be ok until you are reunited with your sweetheart...I know God will bless you and your family. Ed has been such an inspiration to me and I can hear his voice now as he would greet me. He always sounded so happy and his happiness was contagious, you couldn't help but be better when Ed was around. Love Terrie and Dan

“ Ed was such a good person. He was always willing to share the gospel with anyone he met.
Ed had such a wonderful attitude about life. He was a caring person.
The first time I met Ed, he was so outgoing and accepted me into the Elsberry family with a loving heart.
He will be missed, but never forgotten.

Love, his sister-in-law, Norma Elsberry

“ We knew Ed when we all lived in Marshalltown. He always found joy in life. When we were building the chapel you could always count on him being there. Loved his love of the Savior and his willingness to share his testimony.
