A poem written by Esther Garcia

“I had a Dream”

I had a dream I was walking up this rough & rocky mountain.

I was getting real tired when this man, with long hair and wearing a robe and sandals, came up to me and said “Let me help you”, he must have carried me to a beautiful meadow with pretty roses and wild flowers. He said “wait for me, I'll be back and now sleep & rest”

“ I remember all the fun times we had and how we would her down and tickle her feet and she would laugh and try to smack us as we tickles her. I remember I had her for almost a whole school year to myself cause everyone else was in school. We spent every morning together she would give me ginger snap cookies and let me dip them in her coffee. I have so many good memories with this beautiful amazing woman and I miss her like crazy!!! I love you my momma and I'm having such a had time being without you!! God be with you til we meet again. Save us all a spot. Your baby girl always and forever. Jeanene Buhler
