“ So on 07/26/2019 dad passed away peacefully @ 4 AM.
I've had a day to reflect as family and friends have called or stopped by to visit with mom and us kids.
My dad was a man who had a booming voice and a soft heart. He was a man who expected the best out of me and always had my best interests in mind when i was growing up.
My memories of dad and how he influenced me will be something I will always remember.... From the time I wasn't home from scouts at 9;15 pm and he came tearing around the corner into the church parking lot (tires squealing) in the 55 ford.... yes he was shifting gears and he pulled up slammed on the brakes and told me to get my butt in the truck.I knew another lame excuse like "my watch time must have changed magically" and that was why I wasn't home yet wasn't gonna work...
Other times I remember are when we'd getup early on a Saturday and go fishing up to maple lake in the ole 55 and spend the day just being a dad and son doing dad and son stuff.
I remember going to the Timp drive in with mom and dad, a bucket of chicken and bottles of coke. I remember going to Suntana Raceway and watching the race's on the weekends, all the awesome camp outs with the Farnworths and Grandpa Leo making breakfast and dad sneaking bacon off the grill and sharing it with me. There are so many memories i could go on for ever but i won't....
My dad taught me to work hard, be honest and always look out for the little guy. He always told me that you have to work hard for the things you want out of life and one of the things I wanted a partner that would love me for me like my mom did for him.(which I found) I know my dad would do anything for mom and he spent a lot years working in the foundry being hot, dirty and beating his body up to support mom the family and for this I will always be grateful...
I know dad is in a place that he can see family who have gone before him and he is again able to move around pain free and will always watch over us.
Dad you have been such a great father, grandfather and we will miss you dearly.
Love you dad....
