

Rae Jean Maxfield Reeves

December 11, 1941 - October 21, 2020

Rae Jean Maxfield Reeves passed away October 21, 2020 of natural causes.

Rae Jean came into this world on December 11, 1941 at only 3 pounds, and was not expected to live. She fooled them all and lived to 78 years. She had a beautiful voice and loved to sing Opera. She sang in her high school production of Mikado. She loved to dress up, with flowers in her hair, bright red lipstick, and her best dress. Jewelry was her best friend. She loved cats and dogs and took in every stray.

When she was staying in Las Vegas with her Dad she was set up, by a neighbor, on a blind date with Sylvester Lee Reeves. Within a year they were married.

She was challenged in this life with MS, arthritis, and mental disabilities. She loved her Heavenly Father and felt that He supported and strengthened her throughout these trials.

Rae Jean is survived by her sister Loyce Lintz, their shared daughter Stephanie Michelotti, and many nieces and nephews. Due to Covid-19, there will be a brief service for family.

The family wishes to thank the caregivers at CityCreek, and the Copper Ridge Care Center, for their love and caring.

Cemetery

Lindquist Memorial Park at Layton

1867 North Fairfield Road

Layton, UT,

Comments

“ 2 files added to the album Rae Jean with Friends Stefanie and Warren

Warren - December 02, 2020 at 04:07 PM

“ I was lucky enough to be introduced to Rae Jean through my girlfriend, who met her while volunteering at City Creek Post Acute. We visited her more or less every week for 2+ years until COVID came and she was moved to a facility that was not allowing guests. Rae Jean was just as sweet as she could be sassy. I cherished our friendship, eating cheetos and was so thrilled when she felt well enough to dress up and put on lipstick for our visits, as I know that was one of her favorite things. We would mostly just visit and share a snack, but once in a while she would share details of well live and real life. I am very sad to hear of her passing.

-Warren

Warren - December 02, 2020 at 03:56 PM