

Robin William Stevenson

April 17, 1941 - October 10, 2018

Robin William Stevenson was born April 17th, 1941, in Ayr, Scotland. He passed away October 10th, 2018. He was an only child and spent his childhood years in the village of Catrine in East Ayrshire, Scotland. At the age of 19, Robin joined the Metropolitan Police Force in London, England as a senior cadet. Robin met Linda Margaret Broughton in 1964 and they married in October of 1965. They were married for almost 53 years before Linda passed away in July 2018.

In 1969, twins, Ian and Neil, were born. Then, in 1977, Andrew. He was dedicated to providing for his family and worked extra hours to buy camping gear for family vacations to Culzean Castle and the surrounding area.

Robin served as a police officer in multiple locations throughout London, including; Harrow Road, Cannon Row, and Kensington Palace. He enjoyed cooking. He had a particular fondness for baking bread and making curry; his curry recipe was even prepared by the royal chef for Princess Diana and Prince Charles. He also had a brush with rock royalty when the Beatles had a minor car crash near the Marylebone Lane Police Station.

In 1986, the family moved to Scotland when Robin retired from the police force. Robin and Linda then moved to the United States in 2001 to be close to all 3 of their sons who were all living in the United States.

Robin expressed a preference before his passing to have a small, private viewing with just his immediate family members. He loved Facebook and reaching out to his many friends around the world. Robin and his family are very grateful for all the help and support that was provided during his final months.

Robin is survived by 3 sons and 9 grandchildren.

“ Robin was a wonderful man, who truly loved his wife and family. His strong connection with Catrine, where he grew up never faded. His friends on Facebook thoroughly enjoyed hearing all his stories of years gone by especially all the photos and stories he told. We were saddened to hear of Linda's illness and then passing..he missed her so much, but we his Facebook family and tried to comfort him in his darkest days. Now they are reunited and will be together forever ...we will miss you Robin,
...Love to your family ...Rest in Peace my friend from your Facebook friends in Catrine, Ayrshire in Scotland
