All who knew Sandee Lee loved and adored her. Her genuine kindness, sense of humor and love for the Lord were her greatest attributes.

Sandee Lee loved to serve others in need; especially her family. She was a light to so many, but always felt her true-life mission was to uplift young people and give them a special sense of self. Sandra owned and operated her own modeling and finishing school for several years called Sheek Modeling, and also donated hundreds of hours to train young ladies in pageantry.

She was known for her beauty inside and out and will be greatly missed.

“ We were friends from 6th grade. One fun memory, I walked down to Sandra's, not sure what we had planned, but when I arrived she was busy trimming the hedge in front of her house, she had decided to make it look like a heart. When Grant and Barta saw the heart, she was grounded for two weeks.
