“ When I first met Wendy at Lowe’s several years ago, she introduced herself, with that big old smile and a wink, as “Weekend Wendy”. Lowe’s was her part time gig that she only worked at on the weekends. She also always carried around with her this little white bucket stashed with snacks, water, sunblock, gloves-and other assorted items-to get her through her shift. You knew you were going to have a good shift if you were working with Wendy. One of the nicest, most kind hearted, funny, patriotic, animal loving people around, it is no surprise that she could make friends anywhere she went. She was family. Every time I saw her, she would always say to me, “you work too much”...when in reality she as well was always working. She always joked about how bad of a cook she was, and how she had traumatized her dogs by setting off the smoke alarm so much. I’ll miss our long chats and texts and seeing her sweet face whenever she popped into Lowe’s. She always remembered us around Christmas and gave us funny gifts wrapped in gag boxes. The world lost one of the good ones. Until we meet again sweet friend...

“ I am so sad for the loss of a dear sweet friend. Wendy was always concerned about the happiness of so many others. Ruth Maples at Lowe’s, for example, was 20 years older. But Wendy cared about her like she was a big sister. It was Wendy that asked me to give Ruth a special priesthood blessing before she went in the hospital for heart surgery.
Many of us at Lowes will miss Wendy’s smile and the small tokens of friendship that she would drop off like Santa Claus.

“ I first met Wendy in the Bloomfield Farms neighborhood in West Jordan (2004-2005), where we attended the same Cobble Creek Ward (6th?) and were each married to different husbands at the time. She was a strikingly beautiful woman who lived in a large, beautiful home with her beautiful blended family. Life moved along and a few short years later I was so pleasantly surprised to see Wendy at church in the West Jordan 27th Ward, where I had grown up and returned with my new husband a couple years prior. She told me how she had married a wonderful man, Jefferson Todd, whom I didn't know personally, only where he lived. So for the last 10 years, I've heard how loving, patient, and understanding he is.

She would also talk about her gorgeous children, now grown – how proud she is of them! She would share about their wonderful accomplishments – marriage, careers, and her most precious grandbaby girl Cossette.

Anyone that knows her knows her love for God, her family, her country. She stands for faith, family, and freedom. She is a passionate woman with a very generous heart. One of the many ways she expressed love was through gifts. I will now cherish even more the many things she's given me and my family – and of the most important is her shining example of love, forgiveness, patience, kindness, thoughtfulness, hard work, to name a few.

Oh my goodness, dear Friend, I look forward to the day when I can see your beautiful smile, hear your cute voice, and feel your warm hug once again. Until then, you will be missed by many. You are now among the AMAZING women of the West Jordan 27th Ward Family on the other side. Much love and God bless your dear husband and children.

“ Dear Jeff and children, yesterday, what a very sad but beautiful day. Jeff, I must have been about your age when my wife, your mother, passed away. I know you feel like it is the end of the world and the pain will never stop, it does not. It does get softer with time.
It is a comfort to know that your wife and your mother now lay side by side.

What beautiful memories we all have of Wendy. How loving, kind and giving of herself and shared it with everyone. She did not have to say anything, just a big beautiful smile and hug said it all. However, we all knew she had plenty to say. So fun to be around, so upbeat and laughing. So thankful for all the memories we hold dear.

How blessed we are to have our families! Your children and your sister Melissa, have been a rock for you and you for them.

Do not forget to listen for the birds. Love you all so much, Dad and Sheila

“ I didn't know Wendy in R/L but read a post of hers on Facebook that showed what a lovely daughter of God she truly is. Will miss her posts about her beautiful family that she was so proud of, and her cute dogs. R I P dear friend.

“ Wendy was an old coworker. She used to work part time at Harmons, the local grocery. We became very close as we shared a lot of similar beliefs and views of the world. She was one of my favorites. She was my first Facebook friend and she always liked and commented on all my posts. She always had a way of showing love and kindness to those around her. Even though our relationship was mostly virtual the past little bit, she will be dearly missed.

Cody Sanford - January 30 at 11:36 PM

“ Cody! I only worked with Wendy a few times before I moved, but she was one of my favorites too! Such a kind person. I'm happy to hear that others she worked with remembered her this way, too!

“ I have lots of silly memories with Wendy. We were "bestie" cousins! We did so many silly things together. Wendy I will miss you at the Harris' get togethers (mostly funerals). I will miss you catching me up on all the latest events in your life. I will miss your happy energy that you always brought with you.
My thoughts and prayers are with your family,
Love, Heather Conley

“ Things I know about Wendy... Her love and devotion to God, Family and Country. Dear friend, there is so much to I could say, but you know how I feel. I miss you.

Katreena Leavitt - January 30 at 12:50 PM

“ I'm so saddened by the loss of Wendy. Although we lived just a few doors away, we were close emailing and texting friends. She was always so kind and supportive of me. Leaving treats on my doorstep. I will miss her and the way she always signed her emails and texts: hugs Wendy. I know she is with her Savior, Jesus Christ. Joye Rolfe

Joye Rolfe - January 30 at 12:33 PM

“ We are truly sorry for your loss, hearts are broken and God gained an angel.

Your beautiful wife, mother, grandmother, family and friend. Her smile so beautiful and the kindness in her heart, something to hold on to for the rest of your life. Although we didn't spend much time together, in passing here and there, Wendy showed others that she truly cared. In this time of sadness our hope is, you'll surround yourself with wonderful memories, family and friends. We pray for your comfort knowing she's at peace.

Sending love & prayers, "bonus siblings" Jill and Wayne Wardell, Jeff and Chris Johnson, Jamee Johnson and all of our kids!

“ I will miss our talks about politics and I will miss hearing her stories about her dogs she loved so much! She was a gentle soul whose life was hard and at times she was a lonely soul as she tried to find the peace and love of which she found so elusive. I will miss Wendy with her cute smile and warm personality. I know she will find the love and acceptance in the arms of her Lord and Savior. Rest in peace Wendy. You will be missed!!!

Carolyn Clark - January 29 at 07:17 PM

“ My dearest Wendy. As her aunt, I had the privilege of watching her grow into the wonderful woman that she became. Professionally, she had a work ethic beyond comparison. Most of her life she had at least two jobs, working tirelessly to support her family. To say that she was hardworking and responsible would be an understatement.

Yet her real strengths were her personal attributes. Wendy was the kindest person I have ever met. She was compassionate, understanding, and supportive. Wendy truly helped me raise my children. She supported them at every birthday, holiday, graduation, wedding, and baby shower. Memories of Wendy are woven throughout their lives, and they will never forget their sweet cousin. As to her husband, children (including spouses), and grandchild, she loved them more than anything in the world. They were the true joy of her life, and now her enduring legacy.

To my sweet little Wendy, my life was blessed the day you were born and forevermore. I will miss you every day. I love you more than words can ever express.

Teri Evans - January 29 at 06:35 PM

“ Wendy was a beautiful person inside and out, and an inspiration to those who knew her.

I will miss her smile that always lit up the room when she around. She had such a big giving heart, and made others feel loved and important, truly so Christ like in how she treated others. I wish she could have known how special and loved she was.

Though she has left us, she will not be forgotten.

May you feel the peace you were seeking for dear friend

Diane Ford - January 29 at 05:55 PM

“ Words can't seem to capture what I am feeling in my heart. My dear friend, I loved your kind, giving, sweet soul and knew from the day we met that you were special... so special that I had to connect you with my good friend, Jefferson Todd. You will be missed but never forgotten. Until we meet again...

“ My sweet mother in law, I miss you so much.. words can't describe the hole I have in my heart. Since I was 16 you have treated me like your own daughter, I am so blessed to marry the son you raised. He is who he is today because of you. You were not only my mother in law, but one of my best friends. There wasn't a day that we by that we didn't talk. I will miss Skyping with you at work when it was slow, I will miss the holidays and the Fourth of July parties you would throw. I will miss your unnecessary gift giving just because you loved your kids, I will miss the talks we had and I will miss your sweet smile and hugs. I love you more than you could ever know. You will live on through us, as if you never left.. say hi to my grandma for me

Olivia Hourlier - January 29 at 04:14 AM

“ I am so sorry for the loss of Wendy. She was such a beautiful lady who worked hard to make life better for all those she associated with.

Her faith in our Savior Jesus Christ seemed kept her going and to keep trying. She loved to learn more of the Gospel and made time in her busy schedule to study His words.

Wendy was so warm, kind, friendly and easy to love. I'm so grateful to have had the opportunity to associate with her.

I will truly miss her and her example of dignity and courage.

Ronda Love - January 29 at 12:18 AM

“ My beautiful friend, there is a Wendy size hole in my heart. You and I survived some horrible things in life at the same time, but together we were able to grow and navigate new life paths with laughter and the support of each other, And we came the other side stronger.

Today my mind wondered back to the time you talked me in to a hot air balloon ride, I was scared to death and I made you promise they wouldn't take us up to high... my mind is now filled with the thought of you and all the beautiful colors of that ballon...flying as high as you wanted to go, and in to the loving arms of our Father in Heaven. I know you are at peace. Love you my dear Wendy, I look forward on the day I can hug you again and share a laugh, until then I will miss you my friend

Stephanie Brower - January 28 at 09:32 PM

“ I love you sweet sister. We have been through so much together and I will miss you more then words can say. You were truly one of the most caring souls on this earth. You had a sweet disposition and would do anything for anyone, even if you barely knew them.

I know how much you cherished your Heavenly Father. You loved him so much! You always would comment on how you couldn't wait to feel of his love and I know He has you in his loving arms.

I love you, and I can't wait to see you again!

Bridgit Doyle - January 28 at 08:49 PM

“ While my husband and I didn't get the opportunity to know Wendy personally, we were able to get to know her through her son and daughter, Josh and Olivia Hourlier. Through them, we saw the love and light that Wendy brought into the lives of those she knew. We saw her kindness, her loyalty, and her compassion. We saw the wonderful mother and grandmother that she was. We know her legacy will live on through her children and grandchildren, and we know we will continue to get to know Wendy through them.

Danielle Hales - January 28 at 06:45 PM

“ I worked with Wendy shortly in 2019, and immediately recognized what a kind and thoughtful lady she was! She had one of the most beautiful smiles I had ever seen. She shared part of her life's story with me, and I marveled at the strength she had to endure so much. It was a pleasure to have known her for even a short time.

“ My sweet Wendy. Oh how I grieve for her family and miss her. I always considered Wendy an Angel on earth. A tender soul who was there for me during difficult days through the years. Her legacy of sacrifice, perseverance, obedience and compassion will live on and her beautiful soul will be reflected in her amazing children and husband. Wendy’s warm and vibrant personality blessed those who were fortunate enough to know her. She is now surrounded by loving Angels. Prayers and love to her family.

Tracy Behunin - January 27 at 07:11 PM

“ We are so very sorry to hear of Wendy's passing. I am her uncle, and I have known her for her entire life. She is one of the sweetest and kindest souls that has ever walked upon this Earth. She always carried her burdens with dignity and grace. She always worried about my happiness, and never forgot me at my Birthday or at Christmas.

Wendy always worked harder and longer than anyone I knew. She seemed to have endless reserves of strength and energy. I would marvel when I would hear about her daily routines.

Wendy only wanted good things for others, especially for her husband, children, and grandchildren. My heart goes out to her entire family, and I pray that her memory will someday bring them peace.

I love you, dear Niece. I know your life story, and I am here to honor you.

Love,
Uncle Al
