

Ashley Coral (Halverson) Walker

May 11, 1994 - September 30, 2017

Obituary: Ashley Coral Walker (Halverson)

Ashley Coral Walker (Halverson) left this earthy life at the age of 23 on September 30th, 2017 in Atlanta, Georgia. Ashley died from complications of an unknown illness. Ashley fought so hard and was surrounded by love and her family at the time of her passing.

Ashley Coral Walker (Halverson) was born in Ansbach, Germany on May 11th, 1994. As the oldest child in her family and the daughter of a Soldier, Ashley had the opportunity to meet and touch the lives of so many people around the world. She was able to experience so much in her short life. Ashley had her first passport when she was five days old and loved the adventure of traveling from that time on. She visited so many places in this beautiful world. She always loved to share that she had been to Germany, England, Belgium, France, the Netherlands, Mexico, Czech, Poland, Austria, Crete, Luxembourg and many places throughout the United States.

Ashley had a love of learning.

Ashley attended kindergarten in Yuma Arizona, 1st thru 3rd grade in Hohenfels, Germany, 4th thru 6th grade in Illesheim, Germany, 7th grade in Hohenfels Germany, 8th and 9th grade in Middletown, Rhode Island and 10th thru 12th grade in Enterprise, Alabama.

Starting with grade school, Ashley always worked hard to be a kind and strong student in every class she was a part of. Teachers always adored Ashley.

Growing up, Ashley could always be found with her nose in a book, curled up in a corner reading. She read and reread books. Ashley loved how books made her laugh and cry and wish and dream.

Ashley had a talent for the arts.

Ashley played the violin and piano during elementary school. She also loved to be in plays and to sing. She was always part of the drama club or community plays. She played the role of Mrs. Potts in her school's musical production of Beauty and the Beast and had roles in Seussical the Musical and The Sound of Music, to name a few.

In junior high, Ashley joined the school band and chose the saxophone to be her instrument. One of Ashley's biggest high school joys was being part of the Enterprise Alabama Big Blue Band. It was her biggest commitment and her source for friends and belonging. She became the saxophone section leader and always took care of those she led.

During high school, Ashley was a member of the National Honor Society, the Civil Air Patrol, the drama club, and the school newspaper. For summer fun and work, Ashley was a lifeguard on Fort Rucker, Alabama. Ashley loved to write. She excelled at writing and editing. Ashley shared these talents writing for the school paper and helping her friends with papers and homework. As a teenager, Ashley did a lot of service through her church- The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. She helped in making blankets for people in need, put together hygiene kits, and while serving as a youth leader made sure others were always included.

Ashley graduated from high school in May of 2012. She was Valedictorian of her senior class and graduated with multiple scholarships.

Ashley attended Utah State University in Logan, Utah. She loved Logan and the connection of attending the school where her parents met. Ashley always said that Logan felt like home. Ashley graduated from USU in May 2016 with a Bachelors Degree in English. Her emphasis was writing and editing. While at USU she interned as an editor to compile works of USU students.

Ashley met her true love and soul mate Jonathan Walker at USU. Ashley had a love of dressing up and planning costumes, so, in perfect Ashley style, her first date with her Jonny was attending a masquerade ball.

Ashley and Jonny wasted no time in knowing they wanted to be together.

They got engaged at the top of the Seattle Space Needle in December 2014 and married 3 months later on March 7th, 2015. Ashley and Jonny were best friends and their joy was to be together as much as possible. They added joy to their life when they adopted Ashley's second-best friend Zero, an incredible dog. Zero was Ashley's constant and inseparable companion while Jonny was at work and brought incredible joy into both their lives. Zero misses her terribly.

Ashley was a self-proclaimed nerd. She loved digital games, board games and excelled at Magic the Gathering. The more complicated the game rules and details, the more she loved it. Ashley was incredibly creative and loved to craft. She came up with amazing new ideas and inventions that she was so excited about and wanted to share with the world. Her creativity was reflected in her craft activities like knitting (which she frequently did for others), Perler bead creations, and especially in her story writing.

Ashley loved beautiful things and the beauty of this world. Ashley was beyond patriotic. She loved her country and its flag and everything it stands for. She was so proud of her father being a member of the military and she wore the title of military BRAT with pride. She loved her Heavenly Father and her Savior so much. She represented them with her unceasing kindness and caring for others.

At the time of her passing Ashley and Jonny had recently moved to Atlanta, Georgia to start their newest adventure together. Ashley's greatest joys were to be with her husband, her dog, her parents, her brother and sister, and Jonny's family. Ashley was never shy about telling those she loved that she "loved them so much". She never left any doubt about how she felt.

Ashley's amazing sense of humor, beautiful voice, and kind heart will be missed by all who know and love her.

Ashley is survived by her husband Jonathan Walker, Scott and Karyn

Halverson her parents, Joshua Halverson (brother), Taylor Halverson (sister), Sheldon and Cindy Walker (mother and father-in-law) and brothers- and sisters-in-law, Bryce, Spencer, Jeremy, Joshua, Braden, Ashley, and Emily Walker, and Zero.

“ I am so sorry for your loss. It breaks our hearts when death separates us from the ones we love so much, especially when they are as young as Ashley. The Bible reminds us that God sees our pain and sadness and has promised that soon, "death will be swallowed up forever." (Isaiah 25:8) He will heal our broken hearts by resurrecting our precious loved ones to life again. (John 6:40) I hope your beautiful memories of Ashley and these promises from God comfort you in the days to come.

“ *I had the privilege of being Ashley's second and third grade teacher.
She was one of the very sweetest (and smartest!) students I ever had. She was such an eager learner and a happy kiddo who treated both peers and adults with respect and kindness. What a joy it was to know her. She was the heart of our class.*

“ The first time I met Ashley was at the Tenney family reunion in Utah. My fondest memory of her is when we played family tag and her and I were supposed to tag each other. It made the whole weekend fun trying to tag her while getting to know her at the same time. She honestly is one of the nicest people I have ever met and I am going to miss her so much. I am excited to be able to see her again in the next life.

“ I remember the first time we met Ashely, she had flown when she was a baby with her parents to come visit all of her Idaho- Utah friends and family & they were able to stay a little while in our home. I remember thinking that Ashley was the most beautiful baby I had ever seen! She had the most inquisitive bright eyes and was totally delighted with life (she also rocked the most adorable little sailor hat). Her smile just brightened up any place she was at. It's been wonderful to watch her adventures around the world with her amazing family. We love each & every one of you!

“ I have so many fond memories of Ashley that it is difficult, if not impossible to only share one. Instead I would like to share something she shared with me. Ashley told me once that her most fond memory of me was the day we met. But it was not because of anything I did for her, but instead something I did for her sister, Taylor. The day I met Ashley, Taylor, and their mom, Karen, our school was dislocated in our local Jr. College due to a tornado. The room we held our band classes in was designed for choir, and had sound absorbant cement blocks for walls. The blocks had hundreds of tiny holes each, and if you slid your hand across them rapidly, it made quite an entertaining popping sound. As I remember, Taylor was a small child at the time and bored with all of the stuff involved with getting Ashley registered for high school. So I took a moment and showed her how to make that sound with her hand. It made her smile and she did it numerous times during their short visit with me. I found it sweet, and typical, that Ashley's most fond moment of me had more to do with her sister than herself. This is how I always knew Ashley to be in our three years together with her as a member of our band. She was one of the kindest, caring and most selfless individuals I have ever known, and I do, and will miss her terribly.

“ I remember sweet Ashley, her bubbly personality and her bouncing down the halls of HES. It's been quite a long time since I've seen her, but I still see the same joy in her face in the picture you've shared. I know you'll miss her more than words can ever tell. Please know I'll be thinking of and praying for all of you.

What a beautiful person she was inside and out. I know she has touched so many lives around her. Ashley, we will continue to pray for your family and friends who were left behind. We know they miss you so very much. But we also know the fact they will see you again is such a comfort for all of them. Continued prayers for the Halverson and Walker families.*

“ Ashley was the sweetest young woman. She drove my daughter to seminary every morning and was a wonderful example of what a righteous young woman should be. She was fun loving and loved to dress up. We will miss her and her beautiful smile. Our hearts and love go out to the Halverson and Walker families. Love, the Jones family

“ The Halverson family moved next door to us when our children were young. Our daughters, Alida and Ashley hit it off right away. They enjoyed laughing, playing, walking and just being together. I cannot remember my daughter's younger years without Ashley being part of those memories. She was a sweet, adorable, happy young girl. Years later, when our girls were in 7th grade, our paths again crossed for a short-time. It was a fun reunion for our girls (and for we adults too.) Ashley always had a firm testimony and knew what was right and tried so hard to be an example to others - particularly her younger siblings. She had a spirit that was strong. I am so glad that Ashley has been a part of our family's life. I've uploaded a page from my daughter's scrapbook from Easter 1999. The pictures aren't the greatest but hopefully they will bring a fond memory to you also.

“ When you hear of someone you went to school with passing away, in this case our sweet Ashley, it's never an easy thing.. Sure, it's hard on the friends that were able to get to know her, but we can never get a full grasp on just what the family and her husband is really feeling at a time like this. I first met Ashley while I was a junior at Enterprise High School. Her and I were in band together and once of the first initial impressions I got of her was how sweet and funny she was. Over the course of that year, I was proud to have found a friend in her and she sure did know how to light a room up with her sweet smile and boy, could she play an instrument! On days that we didn't play, she had a group of us gather around and we played a fun card game she knew and that is one of my best memories that her and I shared together. I know that the "I'm sorry for your loss" comments don't make things any easier and that there will always be that aching in your hearts for losing such a beautiful soul in this world at such a young age, but know that Ashley made a huge impact on everyone around her and she will be dearly missed. Your family has been in my prayers this past month when this whole thing began and will always remain there. Rest easy, sweet Ashley.

“ The last time I saw Ashley, she must have been just 11 or 12, but I have two memories of her: I remember she loved reading, and I remember how much she smiled and loved her family. She was a wonderful girl--mature beyond her few years. Love you, Ashley. The Billings Family

“ It has been my privilege to know Ashley and her family for most of her life...and how I love them. It was my joy to be Ashley's Early-morning Seminary teacher. I love her completely. I love her testimony and her kindness. I love her sense of fun and adventure. I love her devotion to her God, her family, and her nation. Ashley is a choice young woman, and I know without a doubt that she lived with integrity and returns to Heavenly Father and Christ, pure and without stain. I love her. I am sad for the hole that is left in the lives of those who are left behind...but I know that she belongs to her husband and family eternally, in all the ways that really matter. I have increased hope and faith in the promises made to us by Christ. We are bound to Him and belong to Him...and to each other. Godspeed, Ashley...I love you forever. ---Tammy Robinson

“ I remember playing with Ashley at the Tew reunion. She was much younger than me, but we organized a game of hot lava with all the cousins there. I don't know what else to say to the family other than I'm sorry. Nobody on Earth knows how you guys feel right now. Only someone in heaven knows how it feels and I know HE is with her right now. I love you guys!
