“ My Uncle Charlie was hilarious. I think I got my sense of humor from him. When I was little he showed me his "magic" tooth. It took a few years before I realized it was just a fake tooth with a retainer - but he made it look magic. I went to many a baseball game with Uncle Charlie - especially back in '73, '74, and '75 when the Oakland A's were in their heyday. I spent a lot of time fishing and hunting with Uncle Charlie and my Dad when I was young before going off to college - we had some really memorable times. One of those time we had caught a really big fish - Uncle Charlie called it a "big Bastard" - so after i told my mom about the Bastard fish we caught - everyone was reminded to be careful what they say around me. I shot my first deer with a nice .270 he let me borrow. I bought my first boat from him too. A pristine little Boston Whaler that he took such good care of. I have missed him for a long time. His illness took him away from all of us. He is now with 2 of his brothers in heaven and whole again.
