“ Ms. Houser was my 4th Grade teacher at Howard R. Driggs back in 1981. She was demanding and excellent, and we sort of lived in fear of disappointing her. She helped me to develop a love of reading and books. For a kid who struggled in elementary and secondary school, she was a real bright spot, and all that reading paid off down the road. Fast forward almost forty years, I direct the physician assistant program at the U of U, and have been an educator within the school of medicine at the U, and she played a part in my love of education. Elementary educators are so key, and she was key in my development and I thank her! Condolences and best wishes to your family.
