“ We have been friends of Arlen (and Myrna) for many, many years. I remember the first time he showed me his airplane collection that he had made by hand. My goodness! Such craftsmanship. He and Myrna would sit on the couch holding hands while we visited with them until she passed, then Arlen would visit with us without her. He loved to sit out on his back patio on a summer morning and listen to the birds the sun came up. We miss him already, as we miss Myrna.
