“ Justin was a good friend of mine. I can't remember how exactly we met (most likely through a friend) but I do remember what a passionate, upbeat and energetic, brilliant, innovative and friendly soul he was. I could always count on him for a beaming smile, as a confidant or a jokster. He was/is a remarkable man and is deeply missed. "Till we meet again"!

“ I only ever saw Justin in passing, maybe 3 or 4 times in my life. I first met him when I was working at the City of Rocks over summer 2013, where I belayed him on one or two climbs over the course of a weekend. We spent some time together in camp one evening, and it was there that I first noticed his genuineness, as well as his drive for adventure. This was all exemplified almost a year later, on a cold, winter evening in 2014, when I was walking home from work on the campus of Utah State. I saw Justin at the top of Old Main Hill, where he was with a group of maybe 6 or 7 friends and a couch, which I thought was odd. Upon closer inspection, I had noticed that the young gentlemen had drilled an old pair of skis to the legs of the couch. It was clear that they had only one intent in regards to the location of that couch and the snow covered hill that lay before them. While I thought I might get by merely being a witness to this bold endeavor, I was surprised when Justin yelled over to me and asked if I wanted to "ski" down the hill with them...on the couch. Naturally, I inclined. It must have been one of the most spontaneously fun and wild 15 seconds of my life. It was as if we were all kids once again. I'll never forget the laughter that ensued, or Justin's timeless smile. My few encounters with him were all similar to this, and it saddens me deeply to learn of his passing. Though our time together was short, he showed me how to embrace life, and I want to thank him for that. My condolences to his family and friends - Justin will surely be missed by many.

“ To the Graham family. We are deeply saddened by the untimely death of your beautiful son Justin. Please know that you are in our thoughts and prayers. Below is a tribute to your son. May you find comfort in its message.

A TREASURE

A death has occurred and everything is changed by this event.

We are painfully aware that life can never be the same again; those relationships once rich have ended.

But there is another way to look upon this truth. If life went on the same without the presence of the one who has died, we could only conclude that the life we celebrate made no contribution, filled no space, meant nothing.

The fact that this individual left behind a space that cannot be filled is a high tribute to this individual.

Life can be the same after a trinket is lost, but never after the loss of a treasure.

“ I loved having Justin in sunday school classes. He was so strong in what he beleived. He never hesitated to ask a question that was deep. I loved his efforts to teach me to think and find out myself. He brought such an unique part to our class. By the end of one of our Sunday school lesson, we were in a push up war. I loved learning of his rock climbing adventures. We applied rock climbing to so many lessons in life. Justin thanks for teaching me soooooo many things. Walt and Jolene thanks for sharing him with me and trusting me to teach him. Thanks for sharing lauren with me as she cared for my children babysitting when they were young. Zatai loves her. Thanks for sharing megan with me as we have had sunday school lessons and young women experiences together. Thanks for allowing Jacob and corbyn such great friendship and scouting experiences. Walt thanks for saving my husband's life and keeping my daughter here on this earth through her medical emergencies. Jolene, I Love your wisdom and calm listening ear as we visit monthly and worked on committees together Your family holds a special place in my heart. Love you guys!!!!.

My deepest sympathy to you and your beautiful family. What a wonderful son Justin has been, and that love will continue perpetuated beyond the grave. It is during these trying earthly times that we are challenged the most to understand that God has a plan for each one of us, and he also has a plan for Justin. We are given trials and challenges in our life to shape us, direct us, and to mold us into our greatest potential. Peace, Hope and Understanding will come, but grieve you must, and it will be the most difficult journey you and your family will ever take! Treasure the memories, embrace your family and friends, and know that you will always have the loving spirit of the Lord to guide you through your darkest moments. And then, the light appears again, and the peace and comfort of God will envelope you and your family, and you will know that ALL is well.*

To the Graham family--I am sending my love and prayers of comfort at this time. I know my Uncle Neal Jeppesen has got to be on the other side ready to help Justin and be there for him. I enjoyed being in the 2nd ward with your family--Jolene, you and Walt are such wonderful parents. Justin was a great kid in primary and I remember watching him play hockey, too.

*Do not judge a biography by it's length,

Judge it by the richness of it's contents*

Nor by the number of it's notes
Judge it by the way it touches and lifts the soul*

And when it's melody lingers on in your heart
Is it unfinished?
Or is it endless?*

To the whole Graham Family. What can we say but that you are all in our prayers. We love your family so much and each one of you have enriched our lives in so many ways. Justin was our Home Teacher for quite a while and we hated to see him leave for College but we knew he would do well and had taught our family many good lessons. Hoping to help you through this trial with our prayers and thoughts.

*Dearest Nicole and family,
We are so sorry to hear about Justin. There are no words that we can ever say that will ease the pain that you and your family feel at this time.*

On tender and trying times such as this, may you find comfort in the eternal truth that the Savior knows the deepest of our pain and the utmost extent of our grief. His heart aches for every tear that we have shed. He knows how to succor us because He loves us perfectly. His hands will be there to carry us through the most difficult moments of our journey.

May the Savior encircle your family in the tenderness and perfectness of His love and in the hope that Easter brings. We love you and pray for you, Justin, and your family.

*With all our love,
Len B. Novilla and family*
