

Michael Angelo Censoprano

February 13, 1958 - December 6, 2022

I am standing upon the seashore. A ship at my side spreads her white sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength. I stand and watch her until at length she hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the sea and sky come to mingle with each other. Then someone at my side says:

"There, she is gone!"

"Gone where?"

Gone from my sight. That is all. She is just as large in mast and hull and spar as she was when she left my side and she is just as able to bear the load of living freight to her destined port.

Her diminished size is in me, not in her. And just at the moment when someone at my side says:

"There, she is gone!" There are other eyes watching her coming, and other voices ready to take up the glad shout: "Here she comes!"

“ *My heart is broken. Mike was my best friend and the brother I never had. He could make me laugh on my worst days and I tried to do the same for him. We had some good times that will never be forgotten. I was so happy for him when he met Kandis. He found the love and the family he was yearning for for so long. His life was complete and I know he felt blessed. Blessed like we all were to know him. My condolences to all of his family and friends. Rest in peace Mike. I'll see you on the other side.

TS

It is with great sadness that I am reading that Michael has passed away. I want to highschool with Mike and have fond memories of him. We remained friends after school but life takes us in different directions. I would call him from time to time and his laughter and our discussions were of fond times from our youth. I promised Mike, I would look him up when I moved to Florida. Well that goal has recently been met and I reached out to Mike only to find out he is no longer with us.

It sounds like he met a partner which I know he was always seeking and I'm sure you made him very happy. Pretty sure he also did the same. My recall of Mike in school was he like to sing doo whop. Quite good on using the school desk for a drum. He was a really good ball player in his day. Mike could always be depended on, he had piercing blue eyes and sideburns that any 16 year old would want to have but could not grow.

I do recall his like for Marlboro Reds. I'm sorry I was not able to see him again but my life is better in knowing him. I will think of him often especially when I hear the song Pretty Little Angel Eyes. Mike could sing that whole song back in the day. Tom Shannon Tampa Florida
