“ As a former patient of Salvation Army drug treatment facility where Richard was staff, I'm compelled to pay tribute to his passing. So often the staff had little patience with those of us whose misfortune had required their services. That was not the case with Richard. I always felt that we shared a common respect for one another, and I will never forget his kindness toward me in my darkest days. I join you in sincerely mourning his passing and I trust you will find comfort in the outpouring of love and condolences expressed by those who were fortunate enough to have known him. Rest in peace, good friend. Max and Brenda Sandoval
