“ I remember years ago when Richard took our family to go fishing. All the children were small and I had never fished so he showed me how to do it and he put the worm on the hook for me and then I ended up catching a fish right away it was the funniest thing I was jumping up and down and a Ranger drove over about five minutes later wondering what in the world I was jumping up and down about. Everyone was laughing and Richard explained what had happened. Richard's family was always visiting with our family when they would come into town and my children, except for my youngest have fond memories of Richard Now he can spend his days with mom, dad, Dixie, & my husband, Roland, his brother, who passed away in 2015. All our love, the Rolls-Royce family.
