Robert W Edgington was born on April 13, 1926 in Billings, Montana and was raised by his Grandpa Knute and Grandma Barr in Chinook, Montana. Family and friends called him Bob, then Big Bob after our parents named their son Bob. Later in life, Turbo Bob became his nickname because, well, he did like to drive fast.

Being raised on a farm, Bob learned a great work ethic. He knew how to work hard and fully complete a job. He also had a heart for one little runt piglet that his Grandparents were sure wouldn't make it. Upon asking permission, they allowed Bob and his brother Dick to raise the piglet thinking the boys would never succeed. The brothers took turns throughout the nights feeding him warmed milk while keeping him wrapped in a blanket for warmth. They named him Porky and raised him to be one huge hog. Porky would run between their legs when he was afraid as a little pig, which didn't work out so well as he grew.

Upon graduating high school, Bob and three buddies enlisted in the Army Air Corps. They were excited to serve their country that they loved, yet just before they were to receive orders, WWII ended and they all returned home. Not long after returning to Chinook, Bob went to a dance. His shy friend asked him to dance with a particular pretty gal so he could cut in. So much for that plan, Bob never did let him cut in. On October 6, 1946, Bob and Dolores were married. Later they moved to Torrance, California where Bob began his career in Aerospace. He loved being a Drafting Engineer and worked primarily for Boeing but was contracted out to most aerospace companies over the years.

The work ethic Bob learned as a young man, he taught to his three children Linda, Bob, and Shari. Breakfast was fun with Dad. He taught them how to make pancakes, fried bologna, and oatmeal. He could often be heard whistling while doing projects around the house and the yard.

Together, Bob and Dolores met with the youth group at Christ the King Lutheran Church. They loved being taught the Word and how to pray each week. He also taught Sunday School for years and sang in the choir. Bob cared for his wife in her declining years. He really did put her first in so many ways believing this was his call from God. He so wanted to go home to Heaven with Dolores hand in hand but did say often, "Ok Lord, I'll stay as long as You want me to, but not one second more!"

Bob went Home on August 30, 2021 to Jesus, Dolores, and their daughter Debbie, who had passed in 1965, one year to the day that Dolores passed last year... so sweet~

“ Bob Edgington Sr. was the sweetest and most friendly man who attended quite a few family gatherings . He and Delores expressed an interest in me and my family when we chatted and I always appreciated their sincerity! May you Rest In Peace with our Lord and your beloved Delores❤️

“ I had the opportunity to have Bob and his darling wife Delores live in our Assisted Living Home for the last year and a half. Bob and Delores were the epitome of a couple in absolute love with each other! Their face would light up when the other entered into the room, even when they just went for a refill of coffee and returned to the couch!

After Delores passed, It was as if Bob lost an enormous piece of his heart.!!

I

He and I used to talk frequently about if technology had discovered a way to contact someone who has passed on. He wanted to be able to have one more conversation with his beloved wife. I am so glad that he has the chance now! Our conversations always ended with me saying "If I hear of any way that this communication can physically happen, I will make sure you are the first to know!" Well, Bob found the answer before I did.

He was truly a light in our home. He showed genuine love for the other residents, staff, and anyone he came in contact with. Although he missed his wife immensely, he had a quick smile and an contagious laugh.

I think the most common phrase I heard around here about Bob was " He is the sweetest man EVER"! or "I just love Bob so much! He is so sweet"!

And I whole heartedly believe that. He was so loving and kind, and funny! He was the kind of person who checked in on me in my office every couple of days, if not daily- and laughed when he saw me surrounded in paperwork!!! But he knew I would drop everything for one of our "chats" anytime!

He will forever hold a place in the staff's hearts at Beehive Homes of Draper. He is a man that I would have loved to have known earlier in life. He has raised an amazing family who also radiate the kind of love that he had and I am blessed to have known them as well. We will miss him incredibly!❤️
