“ Ron laughed the loudest in the room. I remember the cold feel of his puffy jacket when I would hug him and the smell of smoke, of course. When I was a kid, I loved that we could dress him up at the Halloween parties and he would be just as silly about it as we would. Ron was a staple of my childhood - every camping trip, every barbecue, every Sunday at the bowling alley. As a child, I fell asleep to sound of his laughter in my mother's kitchen. As an adults, I didn't get to spend as much time with him, but somehow he never changed. Always with that dry sense of humor and always the loudest laugh in the room. I'll miss you Ronsie.

Ron was my partner in crime at the air port for many years we would get sent to do many various jobs ! We would get in trouble because "we looked like we were having a good time and you can work and have a good time!"
He quickly became my best friend. We were each others leaning post
He was the one I went to when I needed to get away from reality.we went to dinner and on many many long rides with the oldies blasting on The radio or just sitting and talking. Even with almost 900 miles between us we still remained friends
I will miss his birthday , holiday and missing you phone calls.
He will ever be my very best friend !
I love you Ron and will be thinking of you often !
Your friend forever

“ I will miss his laughter the most. He would laugh at any silly thing you would say and we always fed off each other. His memory for the small things was amazing too and if I couldn't remember details of an event, I knew that Ron would know. I loved his love for his brothers and his care and dedication to his brother Rick. I know that I will miss him for the rest of my life. ❤️ Cousin Jane
